English TEAROOMS

The first tearoom in London was founded in 1706 by John Twining and still exists today.

It is with the British archetype that we associate soft colors, intimate environments and feminine chatter

In the rest of Europe, the tea room softens some of its characteristics, becoming a patisserie, a lounge bar, a meeting place or, with a contradiction in terms: a coffee shop.

So here are collected, in this MiniBrochure, the models of our collection that perfectly fit in a tearoom and those projects and Moods that can be used to complete and refine this idea

Do not miss the forthcoming MiniBrochure specifically dedicated to Japanese style tearooms!
